Workspace Projects

We aim to bring your application through our process in the most efficient way while ensuring you have a good experience at each step. From application to hire this should take approximately 2 weeks.

1 Application Review

The Instructor Success team carefully reviews your CV and assesses whether you meet the role criteria for the project in which you have applied (based on our Content Wishlist). Upon review, you will receive email communication to either begin an audition, consider an alternative role or be informed that you were not selected to move forward at this time. Be sure to also keep an eye on your spam folder!

Create an Outline 2

Congratulations! You've been selected to officially begin an audition with DataCamp. In this stage we first request a draft project outline for the selected course following the provided Workspace project Instructions: Best Practices. This step is important to creating the framework for the project that you'll potentially develop with us.

3 Committee Review

Almost there! This is the opportunity for members of our content team to review your cumulative work/materials to determine if your outline and background is a match for the project.

Offer 4

Excellent job with the audition! You've made it to the final step and we can't wait to welcome you on the team. At this stage you are notified that you have been selected as the instructor for the project. Before things are made official, we work with you to align on the timeline for project development. You'll meet with Instructor Success to receive your official offer and go over contract and compensation details.

5 Contracting

Last and most important step of this process is the signing of the contract. This is what will establish you as an official instructor with DataCamp!
